LINCOLN UNIVERSITY

Here are some dates your students looking to study at Lincoln University in 2019 should know.

Applications for accommodation open on August 1 at Lincoln. There is only a two-month window to get those applications in - they close October 1.

- Applications are submitted at mylinc.nz.
- To apply for accommodation prospective students must have applied to study first.
- CCRF must be received by October 2.

Scholarship applications are also being accepted now, closing August 15

KEYSTONE SCHOLARSHIPS FOR 2019

Keystone Study Awards offer the most premium and supportive scholarships available to students wanting to study and work in the property and construction sector. They not only provide financial assistance, but also offer mentoring, work experience, and the support of a team of people who are invested in the student's well-being.

For 2019 we will be offering TEN Study Award Scholarships to students entering their first year of tertiary study. This is a $5,000 per year scholarship for high school leavers to fund their studies in the property and construction sector. Any qualifications that will bring students into the sector is included, and if you are not sure you can check out qualification we support below.

Applications for 2019 close 24th of August, 2018.

AUCKLAND UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY (AUT)

AUT Open Day – AUT LIVE

AUT is having an open day on the 25th of August open to all students and families – what you can expect:

- Attend info sessions for our programmes
- Meet our academic staff and talk through your study options
- Explore where our programmes could take you
- Experience our world-class facilities
- Tour our campuses and student accommodation
- Find out about student life and services for students
- Get help with study applications

Programme and Scholarship Applications:

Programme Applications are now all open for 2019 as well as all the scholarship applications, with scholarships closing on the 1th September 2018.

THE SOMEDAY CHALLENGE 2018

The Someday Challenge is to make a short sustainability-related film, of any genre, filmed with any camera, up to five minutes long.

It is up to the film makers how they interpret the theme of sustainability. For some it may be related to their culture, their dreams, their family and whānau, or their environment. Watching winning films from previous years may prompt ideas.

A panel of judges from media, education, government and business will select 20 winning films, all of which will be entered into at least one international film festival. Other prizes include camera equipment, vouchers, and a trip to Weta Digital in Wellington.

Entries are open now until September 14, 2018

MONEYHUB SCHOLARSHIP DIRECTORY

The team at Money Hub, a personal finance website, updated their comprehensive guide to school leaver university scholarships – they have a huge range of scholarship all listed in one place at:

<https://www.moneyhub.co.nz/scholarships-nz.html>

Several universities are now working with them directly to ensure new scholarships are listed on the page. They believe their page is the most complete Year 13 scholarship listing available.

New sections to be published

"We are in the final stages of readying new sections for publication - this will include 'how to write good personal statements' and how to answer the regular 'why do you want this scholarship?' question and guidance for writing the other questions such as 'tell us about yourself'."

KELLIHER ECONOMICS FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP

The Kelliher Economics Foundation was set up by the late Sir Henry J Kelliher in 1965 to advance knowledge of Economics to the wider community. Today the Foundation continues to offer financial support to students wishing to study Economics at a New Zealand tertiary institute.

The Scholarship covers years two and three of an undergraduate degree (year one being Government funded), with the annual value of each scholarship being the full tuition fees cost per annum, being paid directly to the tertiary institution. In order for students to maintain their grant they must include economics in their study programme each semester/trimester and achieve satisfactory academic results across all papers.

We are now accepting applications for the Kelliher Economics Foundation Awards for 2018 and would encourage you to promote this scholarship to worthy students. If you have students you view as ideal candidates, please access an application form at www.kct.co.nz. If further information is required, please contact me on 09 373 5727 or email trustmanager@kct.co.nz.

The closing date for applications is Wednesday, 12 September 2018.

Applicants will be notified of the judges' decision by the end of October 2018, with finalist's ratification in January 2019, once external Year 13 academic results are received.

UMAT PREPARATION ADVISE

Sitting UMAT in 2019 or 2020? UMAT is held once a year usually on the last Wednesday of July. For many grade 13 students (in New Zealand), the timing of this test also correlates with the Year 13 mid-year exams and assessments. If you are considering to sit the UMAT either in 2019 or 2020, you need to get serious about your UMAT preparation now. For the best chance of success in the UMAT it is imperative to get the bulk of your UMAT training completed by the start of Year 13.

THE ELECTRICAL TRAINING COMPANY

Paid Electrical Apprenticeships Available

We currently have two routes into the industry depending on the student's qualifications:

Our Direct Entry Paid Apprenticeship (Spaces Available now - starting 20th August)

(Basic requirement Level 2 NCEA – please see link for full details)

<https://www.etco.co.nz/apprenticeships/what-qualifications-do-i-need>

The key benefits of applying for an Etco Apprenticeship are:

- Start earning from the outset in a trade where qualified electricians are well paid
- You'll learn from the best and do the practical and theory components at the same time, so you can become registered in the shortest possible time
- We strive to ensure that Etco apprentices get exposure to Domestic, Commercial and Industrial environments; whereas other apprenticeships may confine the apprentice to a limited range of work and therefore limited opportunities at the end of the apprenticeship.
- The Electrical Training Company will also provide, free of charge:
 - A full set of tools issued at the ELITE induction course for you to keep
 - A full set of Personal Protection Equipment (PPE), which we maintain at no cost to you throughout your apprenticeship.

Our Electrical Foundation Course (Spaces Available now - starting October)

(Basic requirement Level 1 NCEA – please see link for full details) ONLY IN AUCKLAND

<https://www.etco.co.nz/training-courses/electrical-trade-foundation-course>

The key benefits for enrolling on our one-year Electrical Foundation Course are:

- We can offer paid electrical apprenticeships, on successful completion of this Foundation Course
- Our one-year course has been timetabled to allow you capacity to gain work experience or paid employment, classes are timetabled three days of the week
- We offer first class tuition and pastoral care from electricians who know the industry
- Scholarships available.

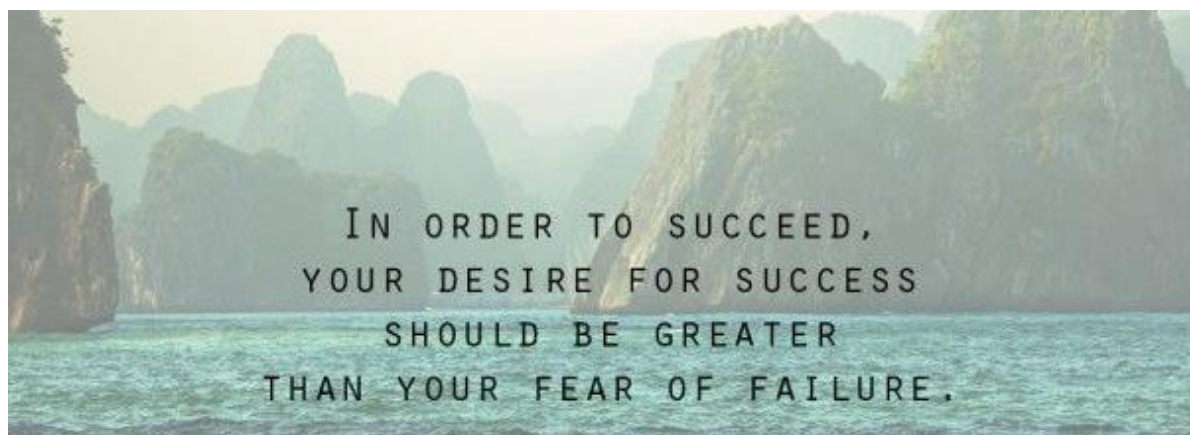

SIR GEORGE ELLIOT CHARITABLE TRUST

The Sir George Elliot Charitable Trust award $25,000 Scholarships to their successful applicants. The criteria for consideration for a scholarship are the three following points:

1. Excellence in academic work
2. Excellence in the contribution to the community and school
3. Clear demonstration of need and disadvantage

If you would like to know more or apply for these scholarships please speak to Mrs Narayan.

Nominations close on the 7th September.

If you are interested in any of these events and/or courses and would like further information please see Mrs MacKenzie or Mrs Narayan in the Admin Office at the Botany Campus, or alternatively email
