Dear Parents, Caregivers, Whanau,

INTERNET FILTERING SERVICE

N4L, the network provider for schools in New Zealand, has now extended their internet filtering service to learning devices at home. If you do not already have filtering on your internet, we highly recommend you implement this on your child's device.

The free N4L safety filter blocks access to a range of websites known to be unsafe and inappropriate for learning. These include adult websites, as well as those known to host unsafe software, such as malware and phishing scams.

More information can be found in our press release, and all instructions and FAQs can be found at switchonsafety.co.nz

If you would like any help setting this up, please email us at support@elim.school.nz. Please include a phone number so we can reach you.

Yours sincerely

Steven Woollaston
